

LOCATION OF AUXILIARY ROOMS INSIDE THE LIVING ROOMS IN BUKHARA TRADITIONAL RESIDENTIAL AREAS

Xasanov Azamat Ozodovich

Docent: TACI, azamatarx@gmail.com

Alimdjanov Ravshanjon Iqramovich

Senior teacher: (TACI)

Raximov Lazizbek Shaxnazarovich

Assistant: Tashkent Institute of Architecture and Civil Engineering

TACI, lazizbek arx@mail.ru

Annotation

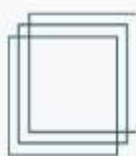

This article is intended to be considered when planning a traditional housing project in Bukhara. In solving is the architectural and structural part, depending on the functional basis of the rooms. Complete demonstration and implementation of the functional spatial solution of the main rooms.

Keywords: birun, dorun, corridor, tarkh, style, corridor, corridor, counter, basement.

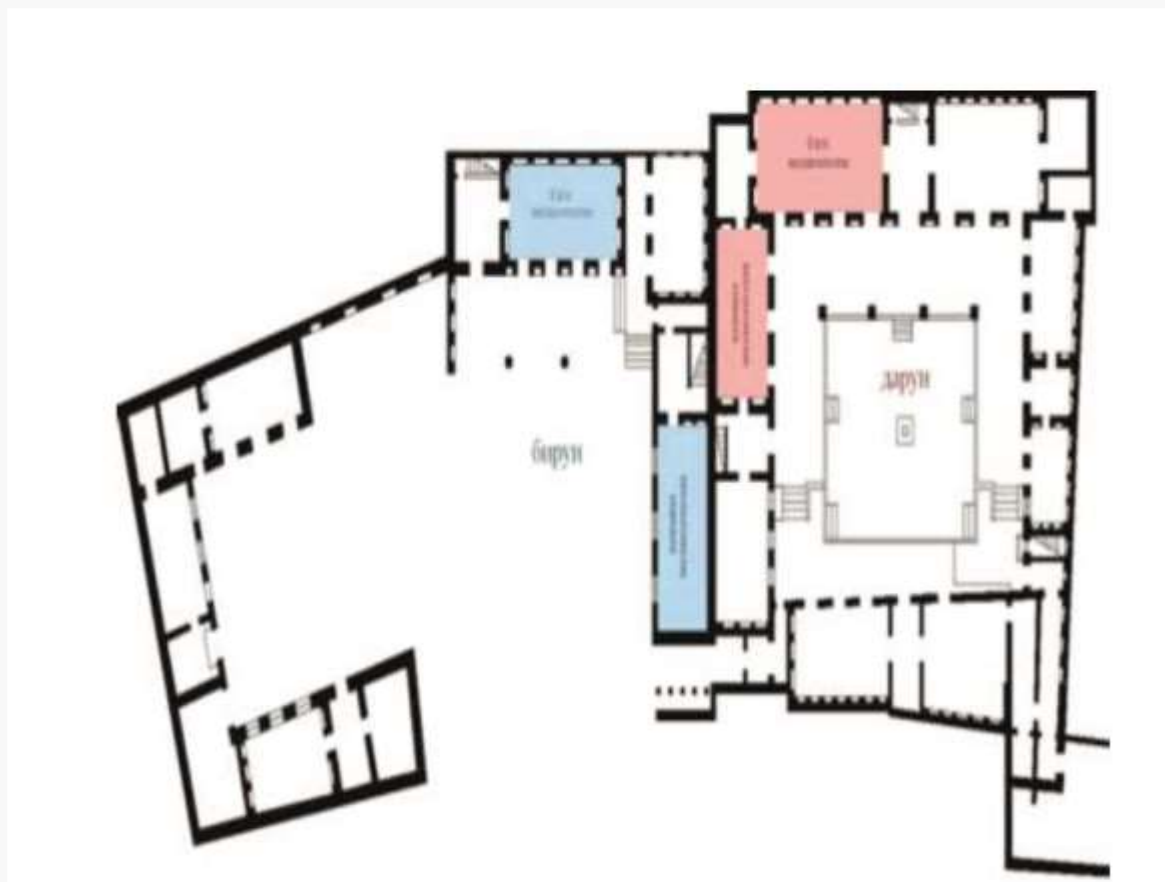

Introduction

In Islam, it can be said that a Muslim should read prayers five times a day, perform the prayer with fortitude, and before going to sleep, he should receive both cleaning the body. The Arabs call cleaning the body "Vuzu" is means purification, freedom". This means that a Muslim should wash in 24 hours 16 hours every 2,5 hours in the morning. This action did not leave the master architects indifferent. Living rooms in Bukhara residences: in the summer and winter i rooms there is an auxiliary room-Madons. Madon did not find a large room; the room in which the Uzi is attached is a wide tent, the length of which is from 1 m to 2.5 m, usually divided into two rows. Tashnau was in a corner of the mine. Tashnau dialed around Muslim brick. Tashnau is aged 20-25 cm below the floor of the mine. One part of the mine is a vainly zone, the other is a wet zone. In this way, all the tricks for taking a pseudonym in the mine are smeared. During the day, the main representative found that in the living room the owners of the apartment were able to fulfill the conditions of prayer in the heat of the summer, without going to the courtyard in the coldest of the winter.

We have heard from our ancestors from time immemorial about the words «guest of God", or if he does not find, "guest who waited for you, guest who did not wait for God". The traditions of decency, which have matured from the mouth to the mouth, laid the foundation for the formation in architecture of the largest building in the composition element of the settlement, the X, as a dominant, a cocktail, which ordered the rooms that beat the pile into.

1-Picture House of Fayzulla Khujaev A. Tukay -70. Bukhara city

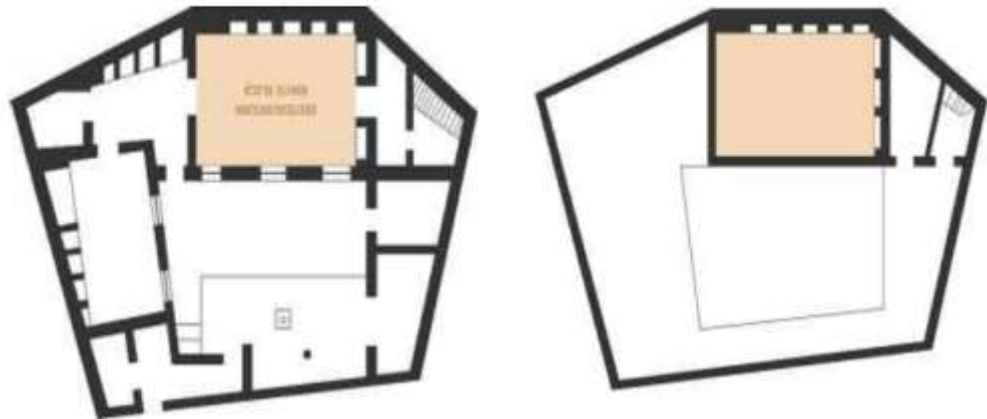

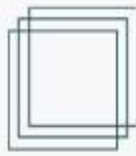

The best room in the Muslim household was divided into guests. If it was possible it was built in Monkhouse in the residential yard. The rooms for guests are spacious, bright, and spacious compared to other rooms. Dish and interior X, house X, divided into piles for a pile of guests. X in a pile, was summer and winter rooms aged in monasteries (picture 1). Little house was one in two (2-pic), a little one in the house (3rd picture), large house was waiting room in the house who would take the specially guests. (4-picture).

2-picture. Three pile House. Khosil Street 5, 7 house in Bukhara city

3-picture. Accommodation in a pile.

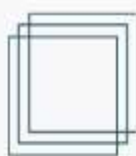

4-picture. The summer Room of a two-room house is used as a cocktail master Shirin Muradov House. Bukhara

During the practice of Bukhara historical houses, we beat an apartment with one cottage and one living room (Bukhara city, Khosil Street, 14 House). In this settlement, the summer room is catarrhal and high, usually with windows to the north, while the mantle room is attached perpendicular to the summer room and placed carob to the East. The most interesting thing is that one of the vertical walls of the winter room is attached to the diagonal wall of the summer room, and between the two rooms on this wall is placed a two-layer window in 50 X60 CM dimensions. This window is burnt to add to the plum, which is transferred to guests. If somebody comes to the house was given a shake in the summer room. And the housekeeper, in order not to spoil the unsympathetic, or the voice did not turn out, winter went from the room to the small window to cheer up such as tea, bread, sweets. In this way, the one x, when somebody came to the House, so that the housewives could not get into the uncomfortable situation, the Masters-architects have put up with such interesting solutions

5-picture. As a result of the demolition of the room, the window was filled with corundum.

The interior decor of the rooms has been given by House. Other rooms have been decorated with the aesthetics.

This is an element from the architecture of the palace. On one of the vertical or longitudinal walls of the cocktail is carved a niche with a depth of not more than 2,0 m, the niche can be divided into 2,5-3,0 m. Shoknishin room 30 cm high aged. High in rank compared to simple, various solutions of hornbeam mulched for round pitches in special are used as stated above, for example, for chewed guests.

Literatures

- 1.Nozilov D.A."Interior in Central Asian architecture."Science.Tashkent. 2005.
2. Zokhidov P. Sh "pictures of the architect". Tashkent.1996y.
3. Mankovskaya L.Yu."Typological foundations of architecture of Central Asia (IX-XX) Tashkent, 1980.
- 4.Voronina.V.L." Folk traditions of architecture of Uzbekistan." Moscow.1971.
5. General history of architecture.Vol.8. Moscow, 1969